So I was thinking, what could I do in order to have some people/clients ready to give me some money for their needs. I already did some work and I am hoping that I will get some more clients to get some money (Maybe 5-10 Euros). Does anybody know of any good ways to find clients that would be interested in what I do? I am actually looking for a way to find people or businesses that might be interested in using/customizing my code for their own needs. ===== mattmanser What you're describing is almost entirely outsourcing to India. Find a local developer who can do it for you. And from then on in your relationship it's you & him, or just him. ~~~ IvyMike Wouldn't outsourcing to India mean that he gets the credit, not you? "Who gets the credit?" IvyMike. Q: What to do if the International Space Station crashes? What to do if an unmanned spacecraft crash lands in a body of water? For example, if an unrecoverable accident causes the International Space Station to crash. A: There are quite a number of articles out there on this. Here is one example. It says that there is a plan to have a rescue beacon which is activated by a frequency. The beacon sends a signal to the Russian Space Agency Roskosmos and it tries to land the Soyuz capsule in a safe place. 82157476af
